2. What are Latin people looking for?

A Latino woman and a Latino man are from two different worlds and look at different things, so I describe what both like:

- Cute Latinas are looking for:

Honesty: is one of the first traits that any single woman mentions when describing someone with whom they wish to share friendship, a deeper relationship, and long lasting love. Pretending into somebody that you're not, will not work in the long run.

Someone that shares their interests: most Latino women do not like strange guys; they often look for someone that has things in common with them.

Gifts: Latino girls never forget someone that sends them a gift, for a selection of great gifts that can be shipped worldwide, click here.

Someone that listen and shows interest: Latinas love to feel that they are special, that you care for them and that you remember the things that are important to them. Listen to what she has to say, never interrupt a Latino woman! Let her finish, before you state your opinion.

Someone that captures their attention: they like to meet guys that look good, neat, smell nice and dress well. Therefore, you can charm her and she can be proud of you.

Compliments: you can win a lot of points if you make her feel good by talking about her nice dress, haircut, perfume, lips... a Latina loves to feel sexy.

Sense of Humor: making a Latino woman laugh is like winning half your battle. This means that she is having a nice time and creates a positive atmosphere. She will remember the occasion because everyone remembers when he or she had fun!

Good looking girls: let me be honest with you, the first criteria that Latinos really care about is what girls look like.

Friendly girls: if you're thinking that acting too formal or distracted will conquer a Latino, you're wrong!

Smiles: your smile is an indication that you are happy to be with him and that you have a sense of humor, never forget to smile.

Compliments: don't be afraid to give compliments to a Latino man, that will put him at ease and also will show him that you're taking notice of him.

Girls that don't complain: this doesn't mean that you shouldn't tell him that something is wrong or something makes you uncomfortable. The way you phrase it and the tone you use is also important.

5. Writing and Posting your Ad

If you want to have a great personal ad that is proven to have positive results and impress some sexy Latinas or cute Latinos, here are some tips for making it:

- A great profile will increase your chances of meeting someone who will be interested in you. Think about it. Your profile is your first impression. Think of it as the first words out of your mouth when you meet someone. How many times have each of us met someone in person and later asked ourselves "why did I say that?" Well, here's your chance to plan ahead - take advantage!

- What's most important to you in life: family, career, fun, health, personal development, learning, religion, and/or political activism? The answer to this question says a lot about you. Listing what is most important to you will help attract a similar minded person.
- Posting a picture is an OBLIGATION. Who don't like a Latino girl pic or one from a cute Latino? When people look at your profile, the first thing that catches their eye is your photo. Take the time and effort this important part of your profile deserves because a bad photo may cause people to ignore the rest of your profile.
- A good photo is CRUCIAL to your online dating success. If you make the first move and email a Latino man or a Latino woman who you think would be a good match for you, what do you think is the first thing they will want to see? Your photo!
- So, if a person gets no response on his or her ad, there is no use to cry over spilled milk. What matters most is how to start all over again and try again the quest with a nice, enticing personal ad.

6. Keeping yourself safe

Here are a few tips to make online dating less risky and more fun:

- Start slow
- Guard your anonymity
- Exercise caution and common sense
- Do a little digging
- Request a photo
- Chat on the phone
- Watch for red flags:
 - Provides inconsistent information about age, interests, appearance, marital status, profession, employment, etc.
 - Refuses to speak to you on the phone after establishing ongoing, online intimacy.
 - Fails to provide direct answers to direct questions.
 - Appears significantly different in person from his or her online personal.
